Henry Lamotte Food GmbH is a leading supplier to the food industry and trade. We offer a wide range of preserved and deep frozen fruit, vegetable and fish products as well as cereals and delicatessen specialties from across the world. A permanent presence in international markets allows us to utilize changes and developments. Our close cooperation with selected manufacturers, an efficient supply chain management and our ability to offer tailor-made customizing provide our business partners with excellent benefits. We boost our efficiency and high performance level by means of a sophisticated quality assurance system coupled with comprehensive quality management. In our doing we are guided by the principles of sustainability and are striving for a positive development jointly with our business partners.

The offerings of Henry Lamotte Food GmbH are complemented by its sister company Henry Lamotte Oils GmbH, a leading supplier and producer of oils, waxes and seed flour as well as oleoresins. Both companies are supported by Henry Lamotte Services GmbH.
